Create an address that reflects the appeal and purpose of your letter to King Louis XIV. For example, Martin Luther King, Jr.'s famous speech "I Have a Dream" can be represented this way:

1963 Social-Economic Equality Way,
Washington, DC 20001

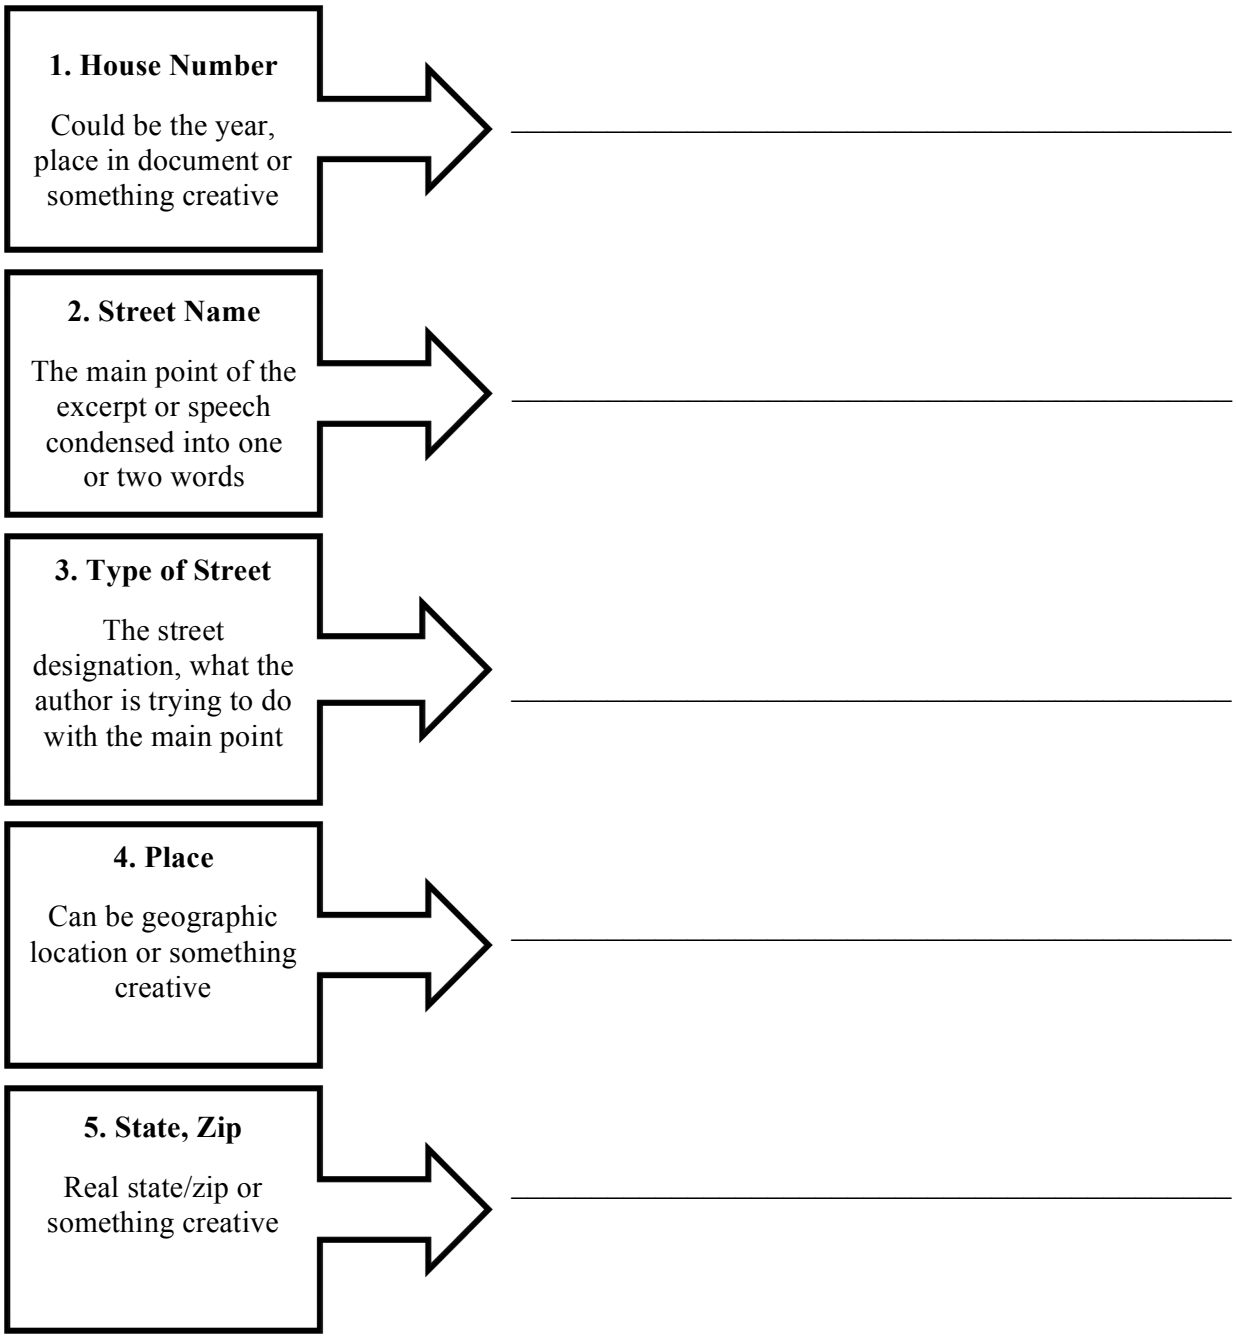

Here's another example for the same speech:

Use the street designation chart below that lists both a type of street and its description as a code to add identifying information to your selected street name.

Address	Description
Way	Proposes a solution to a problem
Drive	Announces a new set of rules
Place	Sets boundaries for others' behavior
Circle	Announces the end of an issue
Lane	Discusses the past and compares to the "present"
Court	Someone flirting with or "courting" disaster or victory

There are many ways to develop your address, so be creative!

Put it all together following this format:

_____

House Number Street Name Type of Street

Place State Zip
